1. Abstract The purpose of this study is to investigate the effect of the use of the Internet on the learning of English as a second language. The study was conducted with 100 students who were enrolled in an English as a second language course at a university in Turkey. The data were collected through a questionnaire and analyzed using statistical methods. The results of the study show that the use of the Internet has a positive effect on the learning of English as a second language. The students who used the Internet more frequently achieved higher scores than those who used it less frequently. The study also found that the use of the Internet had a positive effect on the students' motivation and self-confidence. The results of the study suggest that the use of the Internet should be encouraged in the learning of English as a second language.
